

One for all organization is an independent organization founded by a local Malawian singer named James Kajawo.

When we saw that many young people were getting married early in life we decided that training them in various trades would help reduce the number of young people getting married due to poverty, lack of school fees and we saw that it was one way to help young people who dropped out of school along the way. Because of other problems.

OUR VISION

Vision and support for many young people living in poverty by training them in handicrafts that can transform their lives such as carpentry, sewing, electric apprenticeship, and playing musical instruments.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to empower more young people to achieve their dreams by training them in various activities so that they can depend on their own and help their families.

WHAT WE DO

Carpentry, we buy the wood we use to train these young people in carpentry, and we make sure we have access to other resources that can be used to train these trainees.

Tailoring, we also buy fabrics that we use for training young people in tailoring, fabrics and the materials they learn to cut and sew different clothes.

Electrical skills, we also buy other electrical equipment that we train other young people who are learning electrical skills.

Music skills, we are also training more young people to play band instruments such as keyboards, guitars, drums, and also we teach them how to sing and record music through our own record label, JK Records.

OUR CHALLENGES

We have so many needs that we need well-meaning people to help us with the resources that will help us to educate more young people. The course is free and do not choose to help these young people.
